

REMINDER OF THE EXTERNAL CONTRACTOR'S OR SERVICE PROVIDER'S RESPONSIBILITIES (Extract SAFD 0039)

The external contractor or service provider has a duty to preserve and improve the safety, physical and mental health of employees.

The external contractor or service provider must:

- o Comply with the rules defined in French, British and European legislation as well as the rules defined by Eurotunnel;
- o Provide its staff with the resources necessary to apply these rules (including the provision of personal protection equipment required);
- o Implement a safety management system which meets the regulatory requirements as well as Eurotunnel's;
- o Provide evidence of all safety training for its staff prior to starting the works;
- o Organise, provide and update medical surveillance of its staff (including specific rules for railway operations defined in the "Management of Health and Safety at Work Regulations 1999 - Regulation 3" and the "Arrêté of 7 May 2015");
- o Provide the names, qualifications and risk assessments of chemicals used during the works and implement all associated control measures;
- o Ensure that all its staff comply with the rules defined by Eurotunnel relating to the use of drugs and alcohol;
- o Establish jointly with the parties involved the Safety Plan or the General Co-ordination Plan and the Specific Health and Safety Plan, and ensure they are followed by its staff. Maintain traceability of communication of the associated rules;
- o Organise regular monitoring of its teams in order to ensure that the safety rules are being followed and applied;
- o Report all events, accidents, incidents relating to safety to the Eurotunnel Contract/Project Manager as well as any associated investigation, the relevant documentation is amended
- o Take part in all safety meetings required by legislation and/or defined by Eurotunnel;
- o Comply with the site access rules ;
- o Prepare a risk assessment prior to its tasks, works or services. The assessment must include all health, safety and environmental risks for all the activities undertaken as part of the works as well as Eurotunnel's own requirements;
- o If any equipment is loaned by Eurotunnel, the contractor is responsible for its reception, safekeeping, use and maintenance during the entire period of usage.